

Cherrico Pottery Music License for Dylan McFarling Music

This is basically a "Music License" where you agree to let Cherrico Pottery and Joel Cherrico promote your music globally on the Internet, especially to his Facebook fans and new fans on other, more popular Facebook pages. Sorry to require this, but we might live stream on Neil deGrasse Tyson's "StarTalk" page and more. They need proof of a "music license" and Joel wants to throw you more support as a thanks.

Here are the Dylan Mcfarling songs Joel plans to play in a random shuffle mixed in with other original music:

- Good Intentions
- A Work in Progress
- Grey and Green
- A Dreamtime Tragedy - Epilogue
- No Worried Mind
- Sound Advice (Feedback)
- Draggy
- Down The Line
- May You
- Silver Dove
- I Won't Be Listening
- Borrowed Books and Records
- New Albion Blues

Details:

- Cherrico Pottery will give you $250 (details below).
- Sorry we can't offer more than $250 even if there's more members in your band. This is the only way we can support 5+ different bands without adding commercials (Facebook has repeatedly offered Joel advertising money for commercials and he has always turned it down).
- We'll promote your music and your best links for sharing and selling your music here: cherricopottery.com/music
- When you make new music you'd like to promote, simply email mp3 files to joel@cherricopottery.com and say "you have a full music license to play this" and we'll add it to the mix, if Joel loves it ;) also be sure to add a link where his fans can buy it or listen more and we'll add it to cherricopottery.com/music if it's a good fit.
- We'll tag your Facebook page as often as we can.
- We'll send you links to videos anytime your music is used in a video that gets super popular so you can tell your fans.
- We'll use your music in as many videos as possible for as long as possible, even though we can't guarantee it will play in every video.
